MEMORIES MAY BE BEAUTIFUL

Croco-dill continues his memories:

“A strange, young, completely but pleasantly mad John Steele arrived in town and took me to Canberra where I was completely dazed and bewildered by all the gadgets people used.

For the Ansett Teams, a group described as ‘aggressive’ were one short and he asked me to fill in. Me, the most gutless (?) passer in bridge history, to fill in—what a joke. Yes, I was so timid that my partner had to keep bidding; we came second by a whisker. Great trauma but not a patch on the first game...

Where I sat South and had Australia’s great man on my right and his revered partner on my left. These men had been the subject of so much of my reading that my leg began to shake, my face froze into an inane grin and whatever little I knew of the game disappeared as I lapsed into a come of bolus hystericus.

I opened:   1C   P    1H   P
              2C   P    4C   P

I was an absolute nervous wreck at this stage and blurted out, “I should probably alert 4C as I have no idea what it means.” How embarrassing it that? I still blush at the memory.

Anyhow, I bid 5C and Steele went 6C. As in all good bridge stories, the Rabbit has to have their day— instead of playing in our 5-5 club fit, I chose to bid 6H and hearts broke 3-3 so we took IMPs off Seres and Cummings.

Don’t condemn stupidity because there is always a chance.

Whilst nothing could surpass watching Seres and Cummings play, there were many others who were marvellous to watch.

Imagine sitting between the Borins? How ‘four-bidding’ is that?

RICOH
imagine. change.

I had the classic Mollo-ian rabbit moment when I reached this end-position:

♠ XX
♣ 8

♠ AQ

Needing two more tricks for my contract, I planned to cross to dummy with the club to take the spade finesse. I had forgotten that there was a trump still out AND that it was higher than mine, so when I led my carefully preserved C6, Jim (my LHO) was forced to win his C9 and led into my spades. Having learnt to fake disinterest so young, I accepted his congratulations and revelled in the look of amazement on my partner’s face.

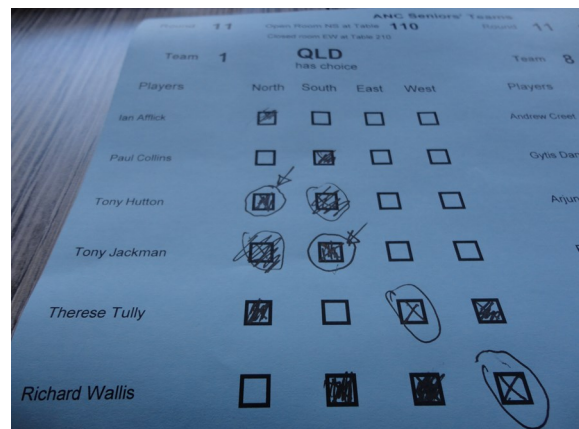

Ah.... the power of memory.”

Ann Paton (TAS) recalls her first bridge session, now appreciating that her lack of knowledge led to mini-brilliances.

Defending 1NT, she held AQJx so led the Queen. Dummy tabled Kxx in that suit, and declarer ducked. She continued with the Jack, again winning. Now she knew enough to cash her Ace and small card. Having run out of that suit, she switched to another Queen, and again dummy held the Kxx. Her Queen won, so she continued with her Jack. That won too, so once again she cashed her Ace and the small card.

She just thought that bridge was a fun game!

SOME CAPTAINS CAN BE INDECISIVE!!

- 1 pair wasn’t meant to be playing
- 1 player had issues with the light
- 1 player objected to being in the ‘wrong’ seat
- 1 player didn’t want to play a particular opponent
- 1 captain was just going insane?

THE BRIDGE BOYS ON THE LOOSE

I had already decided to investigate Board 13 from Round 10 when I heard this lovely story.

The Bridge Boys were playing against Forcing Pass.
West Boy (Ed Burrowes) held the following hand:

♠ 87
♥ KQ64
♦ void
♣ AKQ10973

WEST	NORTH	EAST	SOUTH
	1H (1)	X (2)	3D (3)
5D (4)

- (1) 0-7 HCP, any hand
- (2) Usually like a weak 1NT hand
- (3) "Takeout of diamonds or a pre-empt in any suit", apparently partner has to Pass (?)
- (4) Exclusion Keycard Blackwood...

The minute Ed made the bid he realised there was a small problem—they hadn't agreed any trump suit yet. His other problem was that 4D would be natural, so he had no cuebid available. As such, over whatever his partner replied he was forced to settle in 6C.

I had already heard one SA Open Team auction, where East had opened 1NT. They now had the opportunity to reach 7H (or perhaps 7C) but only if they played EKCB, which they don't.

WEST	EAST
1NT	2S (1)
3H	5D
5NT (2)	7C or 7H

That is one way to bid to the grand. They had to settle in 6H as a result of bidding limitations.

Now for an auction on the same hand where South was the opening bidder (we have already had North and East open the bidding):

WEST	NORTH	EAST	SOUTH
	Pass	Pass	1D
X	3D	4H	Pass
5D	Pass	5S	Pass
6H	All Pass

I'm not keen on East's 4H bid—I would rather bid 4D over the 3D bid, but the outcome was reasonably successful.

The hand obviously caused players problems, especially for those who started by overcalling
South's 1D opening with 2C.

OPEN	SENIORS
3 x 6C	1 x 7H
2 x 6H	3 x 5C
1 x 5C	4 x 4H
1 x 4H
1 x 4C

WOMEN	YOUTH
1 x 7H	2 x 7C
1 x 6H	1 x 6C
1 x 6C	1 x 5C
1 x 5H	1 x 4H
2 x 4H	1 x 3NT (-2)
2 x 2C

Congratulations to Lynn Kalmin and Lorna Ichilcik, Steven Bock and Kevin Davies, Shane Harrison and Sam Schulz, and Ellena Moskovsky and Peter Bolling for bidding the grand slam. Unfortunately for the two Youth pairs, they were playing against each other so had a flat board.

WHO BROUGHT BACK THIS SCORE?

I did a quick survey to find out who was the most likely pair of the SA 2 Open Team to return with a score of 1560.

The unanimous vote was for "the Bruces" Phil
Markey and Justin Williams. Everyone was wrong!
The right answer was Joe Haffer and Howard Melbourne.

They played 1NTXX and claimed 9 tricks at trick 1.

♠ 74	♠ J1095
♥ AK93	♥ 85
♦ J942	♦ A10
♣ J106	♣ AKQ87

On a diamond lead, declarer had a ninth trick.

SLAM BIDDING TESTS

The most spectacular hand of the day was one which generated 8 different outcomes in the Open field, 8 different results in the Women's field, and slightly fewer variations in the Seniors and Youth fields.

Round 11, Board 10:

	♠ J93
	♥ QJ7
	♦ K10842
	♣ KJ
♠ KQ1072		♠ 8654
♥ K		♥ 98643
♦ Q5		♦ J963
♣ 98432		♣ void
	♠ A ♥ A1052
	♦ A7
	♣ AQ10765

SA 2 bid to 6C:

WEST	NORTH	EAST	SOUTH
		Pass	1C
1S	2D	3S	X
Pass	4D (yuk)	Pass	4S
Pass	5C	Pass	6C

Their opponents had a bidding mishap:

		Pass	1C
1S	2D	3S	X
Pass	4D (yuk)	Pass	4S
Pass	4NT	Pass	7D

The problem arose when South didn't know what North's 4NT bid meant so bashed the grand on the basis he had all the aces.

Rhys Cooper and Michael Bausor also had a mishap. When you are playing Forcing Pass and all the relay bids, you simply cannot afford to make an insufficient bid—once an insufficient bid is artificial your partner is barred from the remainder of the auction. Therefore Rhys (South) punted 3NT and that was that.

OPEN		WOMEN
1 x 6C S	=	1 x 6C S	=
1 x 4H S	+1	1 x 3NT N	+4
1 x 4HX S	=	1 x 4C S	+2
1 x 3NT S	+2	1 x 3C S	+3
1 x 7D S	-5	1 x 4H S	-1
1 x 6D S	-5	1 x 4H S	-2
1 x 6D S	-4	1 x 4H S	-3
1 x 4SX W	-3	1 x 6NT S	-3

SENIORS		YOUTH
2 x 6C S	=	1 x 5CX S	+2
1 x 5C S	+1	3 x 5C S	+1
4 x 3NT		2 x 3NT
1 x 5H S	-1

The last hand of the day was another slam but not many managed to bid it.

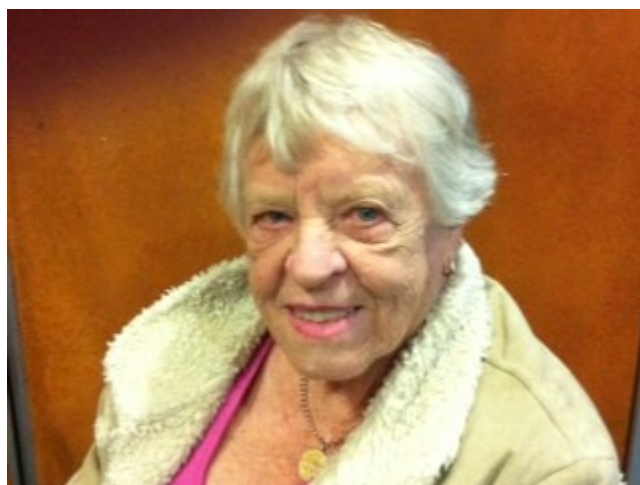

Round 12, Board 20:

	♠ J109
	♥ QJ42
	♦ 5
	♣ QJ532
♠ Q75		♠ AK864
♥ 653		♥ AK9
♦ AKQ94		♦ 10873
♣ A7		♣ 9
	♠ 32
	♥ 1087
	♦ J62
	♣ K10864

In the Open field, no one bid the grand slam, with 3 pairs playing in game.

In the Women's field, everyone bid to slam, with Karen Creet and Sheila Bird bidding the excellent 7D. In the Seniors, only 2 pairs bid small slam, the others playing game.

And the exuberance of Youth show 2 pairs bidding the grand—Ella Pattison and Jamie Thompson bid to 7D and Renee Cooper and Kirsty Fuller bid to the slightly inferior 7S. Well done. On the other hand, the less experienced Youth pairs played in game 3 times, so only one pair bid the small slam.

Betty Mill, one of our more Senior players and Grandma to Justin Howard.

OUR NON-PLAYING CAPTAINS

Our NPCs are a hard-working lot. It really is NOT a holiday captaining six bridge players... I thought you might enjoy short profiles of some of us:

PETER GILL (NSW Open and Youth Teams)

Peter's claim to fame is that he is brother of Barbara Travis (me) and uncle to Lauren Travis. Peter first represented Australia in 1984 and has done so many times since. He's also very involved in helping youth players Australia-wide and has a heart of gold.

LAURIE KELSO (Victorian Women)

Laurie's claim to fame is that he is tall. He also happens to be ABF National Tournament Coordinator and is a highly-respected Tournament Director. I've noticed, however, that he tends not to direct when events are in Adelaide where we often have Simon Edler (from Tasmania)—and Simon is taller! Actually, Laurie comes to Adelaide to relax: either by playing in the ANOT or captaining at ANCs. By the way, he has a PhD in Inorganic Chemistry, so if you are interested in excited state photophysics feel free to have a chat with him.

BARBARA TRAVIS (SA 1 Women)

My claim to fame is that everyone names me as the person who talks most!

My family is rather bridge-y: Peter Gill (brother), Lauren Travis (daughter), Jeff Travis (ex husband), Howard Melbourne (current husband), Elizabeth Havas (cousin). I also shared a maiden name—Barbara Gill—with Sue Lusk's mother, so it is possible that we are related.

Together with Sue Lusk and Margi Bourke (other NPCs) our Australian Women's Team just placed 3rd in the APBF Championships and are heading to Bali in September for the World Championships.

SUE LUSK (SA 2 Women)

Sue reckons her claim to fame is that she had an ANC named after her—"The Tale of Sue's Titties". That was in Melbourne 1981 when her daughter Jen was a baby. Sue's bridge family includes: Bruce Neill (brother), Barbara and Warren Neill (parents), Donald Neill (uncle), Irma (aunt), David Lusk (husband), Margaret and Max Choate (parents-in-law), Pax Lusk (father-in-law) and Tony Lusk (brother-in-law).

MARGARET BOURKE (ACT Seniors')

Margi's claim to fame is that she is still married to Tim Bourke after 40 years. She also plays a mean game of bridge, having represented Australia numerous times since 1979 and having won many national Women's and Seniors' events (and some Open events).

PAULA McLEISH (Queensland Women)

Paula has four tertiary qualifications but is better known for her flamboyant (inappropriate?) style of dressing. She's actually been very subdued in Adelaide (it's such a conservative city!).

She played for New Zealand for 25-30 years before moving to Australia, where she represented her adopted country in 2011. She's currently looking for a good woman (partner); she's found the good man.

DAVID McLEISH (Queensland Seniors')

David's claim to fame is that he has almost tamed Paula, but not with regard to her style of dress. He started life as a dentist (our orthodontist always raved about his dentistry skills), moved via software into venture capital, and thence back to dentistry. According to Paula, in the bridge world, he is better known for his dancing style and his singing. It's a quirky thing, but he is probably the only Australian to have become a New Zealand international representative.

ALLISON STRALOW (WA Women)

Alli's claim to fame is that she drives the "Miss World of VWs". Edna is a gorgeous white 1976 Beetle and her students all lust after it. She wants to tell me all about her bridge successes in Canberra where she has won the Mixed Pairs and made the Round of 16 with Chris Evans (who?).

Noelene Law (WA Seniors' NPC, back) isn't really laughing at Allison Stralow's (WA Women's NPC) injured ankle.

ANOTHER LOCAL RESTAURANT STARS

The WA Seniors' team ate at the Indochina Thai restaurant in Unley Road last night. They all gave cash to one person who paid by credit card. An hour later, Noelene Law (who had made the booking) received a call from the restaurant: they had overpaid by $100.

It transpired that the person who had paid by credit card had also left all the cash on the counter, so tonight he will be returning to collect his money.

Full marks to the restaurant for its honesty. And Noelene reports that the food was really good.

Barbara Travis (SA 1 Women's NPC) and Sue Lusk (SA 2 Women's NPC)

Can Deb Wellman (Convenor) ever get away with being incognito?

Richard Brightling (ACT Women's NPC)

How Sean Mullamphy is dressing daily

THE YOUTH FIELD

Peter Gill has provided us with an insight into the players in the Interstate Youth Teams.

VICTORIA

Spearheaded by Justin Howard and Peter Hollands, Victoria are the favourites to win the event. Juzz and Pete took on a bevy of Open world champions three months ago in Japan at the NEC Cup and Yeh Cup, qualifying easily in each event before losing to the eventual winners in close finals matches. The back-up cast consists of three players with international experience in 2012 (and earlier, in some cases) - Ellena Moskovsky, Jamie Thompson and Ella Pattison - and Peter Bolling who did well in the final ten pairs in the national Under 25 selection event in January.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA

Defending champions WA have the Forcing Pass pair, Rhys Cooper—Michael Bausor, with Year 12 student Renee Cooper, from last year's Australian Under 20 team which made the quarter-finals at the World Championships, and Kirsty Fuller (now living in Manchester, UK) who won this event a year ago. Tom and Ailsa Peacock are relative newcomers, with Ailsa apparently learning bridge only a month ago!

SOUTH AUSTRALIA

SA won the first round robin. Playing captain Shane Harrison won the Asia Pacific Under 21 Teams Championship in 2011 and his former long-term partner Sam Schulz has returned to bridge this year. Jessie De Garis and George Evans finished 2nd in the ANOT Restricted Teams two months ago. Jarrad Dunbar from Whyalla has been around for a few years and is partnering David Gue, from a rather well-known bridge pedigree.

ACT

Stephen Williams was in the same team as Shane, winning the APBF Under 21 in 2011. His partner is Zaiga Thomann, one of his many friends he has taught to play bridge. John Yoon is the main organiser of the ANU Bridge Club and also organises an annual youth invasion of the Batemans Bay Bridge Congress every March. The other three players are ANU players with Andrew Spooner's father, John, won the bronze medal at the World Juniors 20 years ago.

NEW SOUTH WALES

NSW and Queensland are relatively inexperienced teams. Tomer Libman is the youngest player, aged 14, and has a bright future. His partner Natasha Jacobs played for Scotland's Under 21 team some time ago, used to live in Glasgow, but has Australian parents and, for some reason, prefers our climate. She's a geologist who has worked in Broken Hill and Cobar. Ed Burrowes and James Ferguson (aka 'the Bridge Boys') are Sydney Uni students who finished 2nd in the Interstate Youth Teams last year. Alan Stoneham and Stephen Guo learnt bridge about 9 months ago and are the Sydney Boys High students mentioned in yesterday's article—in other words, they learnt to play bridge after the school banned all card games because cards are evil.

QUEENSLAND

Only Jessica Brake and Chris Larter have previous experience, having played for the State last year. Their respective partners are Russell Skellerton and Andrew Gosney (no relation to Paul, we are told). The team is rounded out by Angus Gray and Anastasia Mulcahy (who is related to ABF Marketing Manager, Sandra).

THE FUTURE

Although Australia came 4th in the World Under 25s and 5th in the World Under 20s last year, turnover rates (mainly due to age limit issues) are high in youth bridge. Due to Year 12 unavailability and the like, only one player, Renee Cooper, is likely to be in next year's Under 20 team, with most of the five newcomers probably coming from teams here in Adelaide.

The Under 25 team will continue to be selected at Youth Week in January. It's a great week and anyone interested in attending should check out the details on the ABF website or contact the Youth Coordinator, David Thompson.

Len Dixon, who first played in the ANC Teams for the ACT when ACT made its first appearance 50 years ago (1963) and is still the Canberra Times bridge correspondent, is here kibitzing.

His last appearance was as captain of both the Open and Seniors' teams the last time the ANC was in Adelaide (2006), with the Seniors bringing home gold.
