A Tie at the Top

 Going into the last round of the Swiss Pairs, dozens had genuine chances to win.The cards played their part, with slams and penalties aplenty. Leaders Bruce Neill & Marcia Scudder had a narrow win, 16-14. Andy Braithwaite & lan Robinson scored 18 to catch them on the line.
Some hands from yesterday ...

This is a possible auction. Can't expect West to keep quiet at the vulnerability. If South instead bids 34 (or shudder, 24) East will get to double 49.

Scudder started with low trump. Neill hopped on the diamond off dummy and found the safe exit of a low diamond round to dummy's $\diamond J$ J.
Hoping for the best, declarer then took the losing club finesse, which allowed South to clear trumps for +300 and 9 datum Imps.
For matches 5-8, datums came from results at the top 23 tables.

13 pairs scored +1430 here but many more went down, perhaps on correct defence.
Declarer wins the heart lead, unblocks &A then runs 4 Q. If West wins this, declarer is home, using A-6 as entries; firstly to ruff out West's 2 K , then to get back to cash & J & VK for diamond pitches.

West just needs to duck $\uparrow$ Q for +100 .

Kelela & Tony Allen easily won the Restricted Swiss Pairs

In a frantic last round, I thought quite a few would go for the max here. Key Card Blackwood calmed most pairs down.

Peter Gill found a neat way to play this $4 \nabla$..

- $A 6$

He got a club lead to the K-A. After a spade to dummy, he played $\triangle A$, cashed A and exited with J .
West could cash OK but was endplayed in all the suits. Those who took the heart finesse instead had to guess diamonds to make.

Do you play DONT? I like to double any 1NT opening for penalty, as does Michael Wilkinson:

1NTx was going for at least 300 . 3NT has no real play, assuming South has the sense to play hearts.
Here's our 1430 accident ...

We agreed to try exclusion Blackwood, so $5 \diamond$ asked for key cards outside diamonds. We play 1430 so we both assumed Voidwood worked the same way(?), hence Tony's 54 to show no key non-diamonds.

I tried to escape to 5NT but this was surely a grand slam try so -100.

South is probably worth another go. 30 rates to get -100 in 3NT but most declarers made it on $\diamond 2$ lead. East found it hard to switch to a low heart at trick 3.
5\% makes with routine play, using &AK to take finesses in hearts and spades.
