Welcome to the 2008 Summer Festival of Bridge

Each year, we try to make the events a little better and this year is no exception. The Flighted Swiss Pairs has been added to run alongside the Mixed Teams on the last weekend. This event will play the same boards as the Mixed Teams but will finish one match earlier for those players who need to leave a little earlier than the finish of the Mixed Teams. The Open Swiss Pairs will be using table top scorers and there will also be new electronic scoreboards and electronic information boards.

I hope that you enjoy the bridge, the friends and the atmosphere of the 2008 Summer Festival.

Tim Bourke's Problem

After West's pre-emptive raise to game and partner's takeout double, you have landed in a good game. How do you plan to make eleven tricks after the two of hearts is led to East's king who then shifts to the ten of spades?

Ron Klinger's Problem

West dealer; both vulnerable

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass 2♦ (2) 2♠ (3)	Pass	1NT (1)
Pass		Pass	2♥
Pass		Pass	?

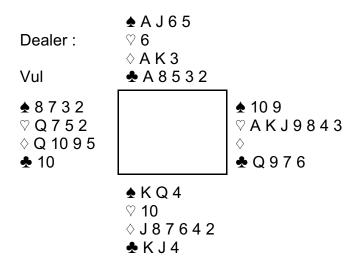

- (1) 15-17

- (3) Natural, game-forcing

What should South do now with:

★ 43 ♥ AK5 ★ A7652 ♣ A107 ?

Tim Bourke's Problem

Suppose you win the spade lead with the king and play a trump to the ace. That will not be a success if East shows out, for West must subsequently take two trump tricks:

A better process would have been to count your winners and losers. As your third club can discarded a spade winner, the only danger is losing two trump tricks. After winning the spade switch with the king, you should lead the six of trumps from your hand, intending to run the card whenever West produces the five. It will do no harm if this trick is lost to East, because then trumps will be no worse than 3-1 and you will hold your losses to one trick in the suit.

Observe that on this layout It will do West no good to play the nine on the first round of trumps. You will take it with dummy's ace and when East shows out you will cross back to hand with a spade to lead the eight of trumps. If West plays low, the eight will win and if he covers with the ten you will take the trick with the king. Then, as your jack-seven in trumps will be equal against the queen, you will lose only one trump trick. You will make four spades, five trumps and two clubs.

Of course if it is West who discards on the first round of trumps, you will cash the ace-king of trumps and continue with a third round towards your hand. All you will lose is a heart and a trump.

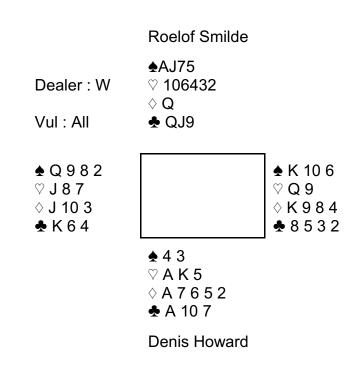

Do you notice anything else about the above layout? It is that it would not have been a good idea to pass the double of four hearts as the East-West hands fit so perfectly that four hearts is cold - East can make seven trumps and take three club ruffs in the West hand.

Although South has only 15 HCP, the values are excellent with A-K, ace, ace as the high cards. Upgrade hands with excess of aces. For three or four aces you can add a point. The doubleton in spades is also a positive feature. There are only three losers but declarer has only eight obvious winners. The ◆A won trick 1 and a spade was ducked to East. Back came the ♥9, won by the ace, followed by a low diamond ruffed and the club finesse, losing to West.

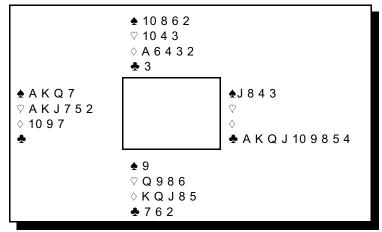

The ♥7 was returned to the gueen and king and another diamond was ruffed. The club winners and the A were cashed and declarer had a trump left in each hand. He then ruffed a spade for his ninth trick and led a diamond to score dummy's ♥10 en passant to make his game. A fine example of precise timing.

The play started similarly at the other table but declarer led the fourth diamond without cashing the third round of clubs. West could discard a club and declarer was one trick short.

My Most Memorable Hand

Last year, I published a couple of hands from the past under this heading; one from Peter Gill and one from Stephen Burgess. This time, New Zealand International player, Tony Taylor, tells the story of an amazing auction from a past N.O.T. in which Tony's team finished as runners-up. This was the layout:

Tony takes up the story.

In the other room, Bobby Richman opened the East hand 5♣ and rapidly claimed +440. At our table though, the auction was more interesting.

West	North	East	South
Taylor	Browne	McVeigh	Bagchi
1♠	3♦	1 ♣	1♦

As for the opening bid, anyone who tells you there is only one correct action here is kidding themselves - there are no hard and fast rules for freaks. The Daily Bulletin headed their story "The Mysteries of the Kiwi Mind" and invited their readers to guess Tina's next action. Her female intuition assured her that I wouldn't pass; so she produced a negative double!

From my point of view, this seemed to show some interest in the majors so I bid 44, intending to raise 4 of a major to 6 (trusting to find at most a singleton diamond opposite.) Tina's next bid of 6♣ caused a change of plan. Unable to envisage a hand with any minor suit losers bidding like that, I finally raised to.7♣.

From my perspective, this is the most remarkable auction I have ever been involved in. Consider: I had A K J x x x in one major and bid it once. I had A K Q x in partner's implied suit and never bid it. I had x x x in the opponents' suit and cue bid it. I had a void in partner's suit and raised her to a grand slam. You might not agree with our methods but you can't argue with the result - note that 7♠ (even 6♠) goes down on a diamond lead.
