West leads the king of hearts and you win the ace. As you may be in dummy only once, at trick two you lead a club to the jack, which holds. After that bright start, things go awry when you lead the king of trumps, for West discards a low heart. As taking his ace of trumps would allow you to enter dummy with queen of trumps and then finesse the eight on the way back, rather meanly East follows with a low trump. Despite this, can you see a way to make 10 tricks?

Tim Bourke's Problem - Solution

The first point to note is that the contract cannot be made if clubs are not 3-3. When they are, the full deal will not be too different from this one:

	♠ Q 4 3
	♥ A 8
	♦ 9 5 4 3
	♣ 10 9 8 2
♠ -		♠ A 10 7 6

♣ 7 5 3		♣ Q 6 4
	♠ K J 9 8 5 2
	♦ A 8
	♣ A K J

After the ace and king of clubs hold, cash the ace of diamonds and exit with a heart or a diamond. The defenders can do no better than cash a trick in each red suit and force you with a diamond. Strangely, this is where you have to be very careful, for you must ruff the diamond with the five, the eight or the nine of trumps. If you ruff with the five of trumps, these cards will

	♠ Q 4

	♠ J 9 8 2

Now you lead the eight of trumps to dummy's queen, giving East a problem. In fact he can do no better than take the trick with his ace of trumps and exit with a heart. As you have carefully kept the two of trumps, you will ruff with the two and dummy over-ruffs with the four.

Now a plain card from dummy coups East's remaining ♠10-7.

Action Aplenty

There certainly was in the seventh round when Shane Harrison and Andy Hung (North) opposed Justin Lall (East) and Joe Grue. In a report on the Swiss I commented that you shouldn't expect many uncontested auctions against the Americans. Prophetic words – Andy and Shane were allowed just one in twenty boards.

The first major excitement was on

Despite the vulnerability, Joe opened the West hand 3♦. Andy doubled and Justin went all the way to 6♦. Shane doubled that.

Not unnaturally, Andy led a high club and Joe's problems were over. Ruff the club, two high spades enabling to pitch a heart, concede a heart and claim.

Onto the next and, once again, the pre-empters were out.

Andy opened 1♥ as North and Justin went all the way to game. Shane called 4♠ and Joe raised the stakes with 5♥. This went back to Shane. A double looks like netting 800 but Shane opted instead to raise spades.

There was nothing to the play. Justin led two rounds of hearts which enabled Andy to ruff in dummy while discarding his diamond loser. He then led the ♠ Q which Joe covered. Andy took his Ace and conceded a spade.

Without the ruff/sluff, only Andy knows how he would play the diamonds. A significant majority of spade declarers only made 10 tricks.

Joe's all-action style was at it again on the next.

The Ace of diamonds was led which established one pitch for a losing club but the other club had nowhere to go and there was no squeeze either so one off.

Onto the next were a doubled game made.

Justin opened 1♦ and Shane passed. 1♥ from Joe led Andy to bid 2♦ (Michaels). Justin called 2♠ which showed a four card heart raise with short clubs. Shane tried 3♣ but Joe called the heart game. This ran back to Shane who doubled.

Andy led his singleton diamond and Joe flew the Ace. He cashed the ♥ K and successfully finessed the Jack. He drew the last trump and led the ♠ Q. Andy covered and the Ace won. That made ten tricks easy.

Shane and Joe

Then a psyche from Justin almost derailed a North-South auction.

Two passes saw Andy open 1♥. Justin overcalled 1NT. Shane doubled and West and North passed. Justin tried 2♦ and Shane passed. Joe put in 3♣ and Andy thought hard and very long before bidding 4♥.

Perhaps, he shouldn't have bothered. Justin led the Ace and another diamond for Joe to ruff. Joe cashed the Ace of spades and switched to a club, trying to find a way into Justin's hand. Andy took the club but then did Joe's work for him by leading a trump. Justin took the Ace and gave Joe another diamond ruff for two off.

Then Andy made a game which DeepFinesse would have beaten.

Shane opened 1♣ after a pass from Justin. Joe overcalled hearts and Andy showed his diamonds. 2♥ from Justin saw Shane support diamonds, over which Andy shot 3NT.

A small heart was led to the King and Andy exited with a diamond towards dummy's Queen. And Justin interposed the King. He cashed the ♥ A and Andy claimed with two hearts, five diamonds and two clubs.

A black suit lead would have beaten this but, unlike DF, Justin couldn't see all fifty-two.

Finally, Andy and Shane rubbed salt into the wounds by bidding a very thin slam which made on a lucky lie of the cards.

This is actually a museum piece as neither Joe nor Justin could find a bid at any stage!

Shane opened 2NT and Andy transferred to hearts before offering 3NT as an alternative. When Shane went back to hearts, Andy cued his spade Ace and that drove Shane to Keycard. Two aces were enough to see him bid slam.

This requires no 10xxx of trumps and two out of three finesses. All this came to pass and twelve tricks were there.

The youthful Moskovsky team had beaten the number one seeds by 23-7.

Onto match 9 and Warren Lazer (West) and Pauline Gumby were opposed by Arjuna de Livera (North) and Ian Robinson.

Not quite so bloody as the morning, but not without interest, starting with Ian and Arjuna having the message that diamonds aren't a boy's best friend delivered quickly and then reinforced.

Arjuna opened 1♠ as North and Pauline jumped to 2♥. Ian showed a spade raise with 3♥ and Warren called 4♦. Arjuna bid the spade game and Pauline went to the diamond game. Ian decided that 5♦ x wasn't paying off enough and went to 5♠. He was right and he was wrong. 5♦ wasn't paying off enough – it was making. He was wrong, allowing 5♦ to make would have been an improvement over playing 5♠ x.

Pauline led the ♥ A and gave Warren a ruff at trick 2. He returned a diamond to Pauline's Ace and she gave Warren another ruff. He put Pauline back with a club to the Ace. Pauline missed the chance for a defensive coup en passant by not playing another heart but it didn't matter as Arjuna ran the ♠ Q to Warren's now bare King.

Then two boards later, the diamonds again were the cutters.

Ian opened 3♦. A glance at DeepFinesse's analysis shows that this had already taken Warren and Pauline past their last making contract. Nonetheless, Warren doubled. Arjuna was still there with a full-blooded leap to 5♦. Pauline doubled.

Warren led two rounds of clubs and followed with two rounds of hearts and that was two off doubled against a non-making part score.

A couple of boards later and a normal looking action from Warren led to a bloody outcome.

After two passes, Ian opened 1NT and Warren called 2♣ - majors. Arjuna doubled and Pauline bid 2♦ to show no major fit. Ian passed and Warren called hearts. Two passes saw Ian make a takeout double. Arjuna preferred not to take it out and Pauline gave preference to spades. Ian doubled - not takeout and there they rested.

Pauline seemed to match par with two Aces, two trumps and the King of diamonds but that was still -500 against a part-score.

A prolonged dry spell ensued before the board of the match appeared.

And it was a

Pauline opened 1♠ and Ian doubled. Warren went straight to the spade game. Arjuna called 5♥ and Pauline 5♠. That concluded the auction.

There is nothing the defence can do to stop a gigantic crossruff occurring and Pauline and Warren quickly wrapped up +450 on their (or rather Pauline's) 15 points. That probably felt quite good until the score-up when the other side of the picture emerged.

The auction in the other room was identical. However, when East bid 5♠, South doubled. This ran back to East, Matthew Mullamphy. Matthew had toyed with the idea of bidding 6♠ not five but had opted for conservatism. Now he was freed of his inhibitions and happily redoubled. 11 tricks and 1200 was the result.

And finally, Warren showed a willingness to balance of which Joe Grue would approve.

Arjuna opened 1♥ and Pauline passed. Ian responded 1NT and Arjuna repeated his hearts. This was winning until Warren found a 2♠ bid in the pass-out seat. This did win.

There were some incredulous gasps from North and South when dummy was revealed after Arjuna's heart lead. The Ace won. Warren played a spade to the King and Ace and Arjuna switched back to hearts. Warren hesitated for a while and Ian said, "Cover it." Warren replied that he was going to, he just wanted to decide which of the 8 or 10 he was going to play.

Ian leant across and turned over the ♥ 9 which Warren had played on trick 1. After a somewhat embarrassed ruff of the heart trick, Warren led the ♠ 9 and it was Arjuna's turn to be embarrassed when he flew the Queen and dropped Ian's 9.

After all this, Warren emerged with 9 tricks.

Joan Butts
ABF National Teaching Coordinator

Changing my car, home and contents insurance over to Bemrose has been one of the best decision i've made - all win/win. As well as being a huge financial saving, i am enjoying the fact that the service is personalised and that i am able to quickly access a representative on the phone, or in person. This is quite different from being a 'number' in a big company, waiting on the phone for ages, pressing the right button, finally connecting with someone who doesn't have a clue about you, and then crossing your fingers hoping they'll have your best interests at heart!"

ABF Rewards Program

As part of our relationship with the Australian Bridge Federation, every time an ABF member (or someone who is introduced by an ABF Member) uses the services of TBIB, income will be generated for the ABF.

This assists in the sponsorship of ABF events, reinvestment into the State and Territory Associations and the continual improvement of the infrastructure of the sport.
