West leads the two of trumps on which East discards a low heart. How do you plan to make twelve tricks?

Every Picture Tells A Story

John Mottram and Lorraine Schaap were playing Peter Holloway and Helen Hellsten in the Swiss when the auction in the photo occurred.

South kept saying that (s)he wanted to play in diamonds and North kept saying that (s)he didn't.

South was proved right when +110 was registered on:

Tim Bourke's Problem

SOLUTION

You have nine top tricks and the only way to make another three is to ruff three cards in dummy. If you play a low diamond at trick two (or even ace another diamond) West will gain the lead most of the time and lead a second trump on a typical full deal such as:

♠ 9 6 4 2	♠ -
♥ Q 2	♥ K 10 6 4 3
♦ K J 8 4	♦ Q 10 6
♣ 10 7 4	♣ Q 9 8 6 3
♠ A K J 10 7
♥ A
♦ A 9 3 2
♣ A K 2

The best chance is to win the first trick in hand with the seven of trumps and lead a low club at trick two, hoping East has queen of clubs and that West has at least three clubs.

On the above layout, East takes the jack of clubs with the queen and returns a diamond (say). You will win the trick with the ace of diamonds, and then cash the ace and king of clubs, discarding dummy's remaining diamond. After that passes successfully, you will make the rest of the tricks on a crossruff.

What do you lead?

This is a real problem faced in the Seniors' semi-finals and the outcomes are in the next article.

Going Down

During the early rounds of the Swiss, the most interesting hands seemed to involve very low numbered pairs going down in contracts, frequently doubled.

The first round pitted the highly fancied pairing of Paul Gosney and Matthew Thomson against the Queensland partnership of John Kelly and Bas Bolt.

On board 1, John passed, then started doubling early and didn't stop.

South's minor suit tops took the first three tricks and a club was continued to North's King. John played a third round of clubs, won with dummy's Queen. Matthew led a small trump off table, thought for a while and then played a fateful 9. Bas was delighted to score his singleton 10 and there was now no way to avoid -800.

Board 3 saw another 9 imps go to the Queenslanders when the pre-ordained to fail 3NT was let through at many tables but not at this one.

After John had opened 1♦ following two passes, Matthew quickly became declarer in 3NT.

Bas led a diamond, taken by dummy's King. A spade to the 10 was allowed to stand and the next spade saw the Queen headed by the King. John led the ♦J, Matthew took the Ace and Bas unblocked the Queen. Four rounds of clubs followed on which John pitched major cards. When Matthew led a small heart off table, John pounced on it with the Ace and cashed his diamond tricks. All seemed fairly routine – 24pt 3NT, double stop in every suit and a cashing 4-4 fit – unlucky?

GeO Tislevoll was in the same contract after a similar auction and also on a diamond lead. GeO ducked the first diamond and won the second. He also played a spade to the 10, holding the trick. Again four clubs were cashed but this time, North, presumably placing GeO with the spade Ace, discarded diamonds. GeO now played a heart taken by the King when North ducked and cashed the ♦A. He exited with a spade and left it to the defence to decide in which major they would concede the ninth trick.

Back to Matthew and Paul to see a double misfire.

Two passes saw Paul open the East cards 1♥. John overcalled 1♠ and Matthew splintered 4♣. Bas called the spade game and Paul doubled.

The play was brief as twelve tricks were lined up for +790 and six more imps.

Onto match 2, which pitted Peter Gill (N) and Paul Dalley against GeO Tislevoll (E) and ABF Teaching Co-ordinator, Joan Butts.

The doubles and the downs just kept on coming.

After two passes, Joan opened 1♦. Peter overcalled 1♠ and GeO tried a pre-emptive raise to 3♦. Paul doubled and Joan liked her hand enough to try for 3NT. Peter didn't like his hand enough to defend (which is a pity as a double and the inspired lead of the ♣K would see Joan left with no recourse but to cash up her 5 tricks for 4 down and -1100). However, Peter called 4♠. Joan did like her hand enough to defend and the red card landed.

Twist and turn as Peter might, there were only 7 tricks and that put 13 imps in the out column.

Two boards later and

Joan opened 1♦ as dealer and Peter overcalled 1♠. GeO passed and Paul queried the overcall via 2♦. Joan passed and Peter rebid 2NT to show his diamond stop. Paul liked his clubs and raised to 3NT. GeO found a small heart lead – the first six tricks indicated that making contracts was still out of fashion as another 8 imps went away.

Then Joan gave some back. If I knew who the ABF Teaching Co-ordinator was then I'd suggest that this hand could be used as the model for a lesson on "not bidding your hand twice".

After two passes, Peter opened 1♥ and GeO overcalled 2♣. Paul forced with 3♣ and Joan raised the ante with 4♣. Peter called the heart game which ran back to Joan who, oh dear, came again with 5♣. Peter doubled and Joan got to count the cost of repetition to the tune of 800 against a datum of 600.

Now class, say after me, "I must NOT bid my hand twice."

Onto the third round where I watched Mike Cornell and Ashley Bach taken on the Andrews Mill and Hegedus. Everything went pretty much with service until board 22 landed and, in the words of John Fogerty and/or Yogi Berra, it was "dejà vu all over again."

Mike passed as East and Andrew H opened 1♦. Ash passed and Andrew M called 1♥. Andrew H rebid 2NT and Andrew M showed his second major with 3♠. Andrew H really liked his hand now and (I assume) reached for Keycard with 4NT. Andrew M showed his lack of controls and disdain for the whole affair with a pass.

Ash led the ♣J and declarer took the third round of the suit. He tried a diamond to the Queen but Mike took his Ace and two more club tricks. He switched to a diamond and Andrew H tried a heart to dummy's Queen but the King was waiting for her. Ash still had a spade to come and that was a quiet four off.

Well, that was enough carnage for me so I thought I'd enter a more sanitary environment by watching some of the Seniors' semi-finals. But guess what ..

Let us first visit the table occupied by Simon Hinge(W), David Beauchamp (N), Kim Morrison (E) and George Smolanko.

George opened 3♥ and Simon doubled. David raised to game and Kim, for some inexplicable reason, passed, as did George. Simon doubled and Kim felt really good about life. After a pass from David, Kim squeezed out 4NT and Simon chose clubs and David chose double..

He led the ♦A, George pitching a spade, and switched to the King of hearts, ruffed by Simon. He cashed the spade Ace but George ruffed the ♠K which followed. Simon ruffed the ensuing heart and then ruffed a spade on table, over-ruffed by George. George exited a club and the sun set on -4 and -800 for Morrison/Hinge.

However... that was just a boring push as Bruce Neill and Arjuna De Livera inflicted the same damage on the same contract when it was played, after a very similar auction, by Russel Harms and Jeff Travis.

The big winner on the board was Terry Brown. He conceded a paltry 590 when faced with the same situation. Avi Kanetkar had doubled 4♥ for takeout against Kathy Boardman and Stephen Lester. Terry judged accurately that things could only get worse and passed.to collect 5 imps.

Things were rather different in the Women's semis. One match pushed in 5♥x down 1. The other match saw 4♥x making against 6(!)♣ (undoubled!) down 4.

Unpleasant Experience?

The ABF is committed to ensuring that all players compete in a pleasant and respectful environment. To assist in this, we appoint recorders to facilitate the smooth running of bridge events.

The role of our recorders is to:

- receive information (either verbal or written) from individual players as to concerns which may arise from events at the table
- be available for consultation prior to commencement of play (10 minutes) and at the end of play (20 minutes); and
- consider the issue/s raised and take appropriate action.

At the Summer Festival of Bridge we have appointed John Brockwell, Julia Hoffman and Peter Grant as our recorders.

And now the source of the lead problem which I set for you.

Simon Hinge took his Ace and cashed five rounds of clubs, David discarded two spades and two diamonds while George dispensed with a spade, a diamond and a heart. Having run out of tricks, Simon tried a diamond to the King and the defence claimed for three off. Notice that a good, old-fashioned, fourth highest from your longest and strongest – ie a spade lead sees the defence take the first eight tricks for four off and how much fun would it be for North to take those spades sooooooooooooo slowly and carefully.

This was still a pick-up for the Morrison-Hinge Extreme Bridge Team as Arjuna and Bruce clipped a Travis/Harms 5♣ to the tune of 300 for a 4 imp collect.

I ran a little expert survey on what North should lead. The results:

A heart – Mill, Del Monte

A spade – Grosvenor, Burgess, Loretz, Tislevoll, Cornell, Bach, Wallis

Judge for yourself.

Policy on Uniforms for Australian International Teams

The ABF has introduced a new policy about uniforms for teams representing Australia applying from 2015 for the next 5 years. We are seeking final feedback on the policy at the Summer Festival.

At the first feedback session on Thursday 14th participants agreed that we should replace the Australian Coat of Arms with the ABF logo and gave input on shirt colour and design.

A second feedback session will be held at lunchtime on Wednesday 21st January. If you have views on this subject please come to the session. This is your final chance!
